TRAGIC ENDING OF A PICNIC

Women Ventured Beyond Their Depth and the Men Who Attempted to Save Them Are Dragged Under by the Struggles of the Women-Little Daughters of Victims Witnesses of the Distressing Affair.

Mt. Vernon. O., Aug. 7 .- A quadruple tragedy ended a family outing near the Rocky Hollow camp grounds here, the victims being drowned in the Kokosing river,. The dead are: Mr. and Mrs. Lester Mowery of Danville, Mrs. Don Graven of Akron and Isaac Parsons of Glenmont.

The men gave their lives in vain effort to save the women. From two little daughters of the Mowerys, who stood helpless on the bank and saw their relatives drown, was learned the story of the tragedy, after physicians to resuscitate the victims.

Mrs. Mowery and Mrs. Graven, who is an aunt of the children, attempted to wade in the river and were betrayed by a treacherous step-off along the bank. They waded over the edge of a hole eighteen feet deep and sank. Mr. Mowery and Mr. Parsons, who is Mrs. Mowery's father, plunged into the water to rescue the women. Both men could swim, but when they reached the panic-stricken women they were dragged under by the struggles of the

RAILROAD WAGES

Shall they be determined by Industrial Warfare or Federal Inquiry?

To the American Public:

Do you believe in arbitration or industrial warfare?

The train employes on all the railroads have voted whether they will give their leaders authority to tie up the commerce of the country to enforce their demands for a 100 million dollar wage increase.

The railroads are in the public serviceyour service. This army of employes is in the public service—your service.

You pay for rail transportation 3 billion dollars a year, and 44 cents out of every dollar from you goes to the employes.

On all the Eastern Railroads in 1915, seventy-five per cent of the train employes earned these wages (lowest, highest, and average of all) as shown by the payrolls-

A 100 million dollar wage increase for men in freight and yard service (less than one-fifth of all employes) is equal to a 5 per cent advance in all freight rates.

The managers of the railroads, as trustees for the public, have no right to place this burden on the cost of transportation to you without a clear mandate from a public tribunal speaking for you.

The railroads have proposed the settlement of this controversy either under the existing national arbitration law, or by reference to the Interstate Commerce Commission. This offer has been refused by the employes' representatives.

Shall a nation-wide strike or an investigation under the Government determine this issue?

There is some inclination to attribute the present pros. Call me Christ or the Buddha, perity of the United States entirely to the abnormal demand greated by the European war.

Logically enough those who adhere to that opinion see, at the close of the war in Europe, an era of hard times and cheap labor in this country.

In the first place the present prosperous condition in stark from the Mystery, this country is not entirely due to and dependent upon the Strapped in the scarlet chariot of the American Unitarian association

True there are hundreds of thousands of men now emploved in munitions factories throughout the land and there are hundreds of millions of dollars invested in that industry, Those men are certain to be thrown out of employment the I am Man, instant the war ends and those dollars are certain to seek Cagliostro-Promotheus, other lines of investment. That condition cannot fail to bring on it would seem, a readjustment period for men and money following the close of the war, which will result in a temporary halting of business activity in almost every line.

That lull will be only temporary, however, as the tremendous balance of trade in our favor during the last two rears has brought a mountain of money to this nation which will remain here seeking investment.

Not only does it seem that the supply of money will create demand for and fix the price of labor in this country but that the shortage of labor in Europe due to the slaughter of men, combined with a shortage of money, will force Europe o draw largely upon American markets in the work of rebuilding both for men and materials.

Those who look for anything more than a temporary lull in prosperity, following the war, due to the necessity of readjustment to meet changed conditions, seem certain to be agreeably disappointed.

Carterville, Mo .- For the loss of the right side of his mustache, which he had cultivated for nearly fifteen years and which, it is said, was long enough to be wrapped around his ear, William Mitchell has been compensated by Sherman Smith, in whose saloon the adornment was cut off recently.

Mitchell had been in the saloon only a few minutes when a loiterer clipped off half the mustache. Mitchell threat ened the arrest of the saloon keeper, but Smith's counsel consulted Mitchell and learned the monetary value at which he held the lost half of his mustache, which was $10. This amount the missionary's God.-Christian Her was paid to him, and he withdrew the ald. charge. If All Advertising Stopped it would mean more than the absence of advertising in the pages of the periodicals and newspapers. It would mean that the grocer would not have his name or business over his door or on his window. The druggist would not display the globes of colored water. The minister would not announce the topic of his next sermon from the pulpit.

There would be no signboards at country crossings or on street corners in the cities. you wanted to go to a store, particularly the best store, no one could direct you, for that is advertising by word of mouth. Frankly, you would find it practically impossible to live without advertising, although you might manage to exist after a fashion.

The great agents of civilization are those which save time and increase the comfort and convenience of the people. These are the things that make the railroads and the many applications for electricity—the telegraph, the telephone, light and power-so enormously valuable. There is no way of estimating the capacity of advertising for saving time and for increasing comfort.

Actual Experience and Proven Efficiency

I would like to meet every voter in the County and greet him personally, for I think of each one as a friend, and I know I have tried to be one to them, and to transact the duties of this office accordingly and with out fear or favor.

Fearing that I will not be able to see all of you on account of the duties at the office. I take this oportunity to state to you my posi-

The office of County Clerk is an important one and should have a man who is qualified and able to do the work correctly and promptly. Knowing that I would be compelled to follow work of this class,

I made special preparation for it and have spent the past fifteen years in active clerical work and my earnest effort to learn the duties of this office and the actual experience, will without a doubt, guarantee in another term, a more efficient administration.

The duties of this office are most entirely detail work and require a good many years for one to become proficient.

It will be said, others can learn the work as well as I, this I do not dispute, but I want to add that no one can learn the work in less time than I and without a trained assistant, which I had, cannot learn it as quick. The work of this office if learned so that it can be done thoroughly, can only be learned from one who has had the actual ex

One objection I hear and the only one I have heard so far, is that I am asking for re-election to another term. If I have discharged my duties honestly and with care and accuracy, during my past administration, is there any good reason why I should not be returned for one more term. I do not expect a life time position, or if reelected will I ask for another term and if re-elected I will not be serving more time than most of my predecessors have served. This office has been creditably filled by officials, some who have held for six years and others for nine years and they will tell you that it takes a long while to learn the work and learn it well.

Do successful business men retain their employes only until they have become proficient and then dismiss them for inexperienced persons, just in order to pass the job around; or if in any event they must make a change, will they not invariably look for the man who has had the actual experience and one they know is capable of doing the work they have to do.

I thank you for courtesies extended to me in the past and I trust you will consider my qualifications and my conduct in office and permit me to return for just one more term and I will insure you a better and more able administration. Vote for me August 8.

WAGES

Shall they be determined by Industrial Warfare or Federal Inquiry?

To the American Public:

Do you believe in arbitration or industrial warfare?

The train employes on all the railroads have voted whether they will give their leaders authority to tie up the commerce of the country to enforce their demands for a 100 million dollar wage increase.

The railroads are in the public serviceyour service. This army of employes is in the public service—your service.

You pay for rail transportation 3 billion dollars a year, and 44 cents out of every dollar from you goes to the employes.

On all the Eastern Railroads in 1915, seventy-five per cent of the train employes earned these wages (lowest, highest, and average of all) as shown by the payrolls-

The managers of the railroads, as trustees for the public, have no right to place this burden on the cost of transportation to you without a clear mandate from a public tribunal speaking for you.

The railroads have proposed the settlement of this controversy either under the existing national arbitration law, or by reference to the Interstate Commerce Commission. This offer has been refused by the employes' representatives.

After War Prospects

There is some inclination to attribute the present pros perity of the United States entirely to the abnormal demand created by the European war.

Logically enough those who adhere to that opinion see, at the close of the war in Europe, an era of hard times and cheap labor in this country.

In the first place the present prosperous condition in stark from the Mystery, this country is not entirely due to and dependent upon the Strapped in the scarlet chariot of the American Unitarian association ploved in munitions factories throughout the land and there are hundreds of millions of dollars invested in that industry. Those men are certain to be thrown out of employment the I am Man, instant the war ends and those dollars are certain to seek Cagliostro-Promotheus, other lines of investment. That condition cannot fail to bring on it would seem, a readjustment period for men and money following the close of the war, which will result in a temporary halting of business activity in almost every line.

That lull will be only temporary, however, as the tremendous balance of trade in our favor during the last two rears has brought a mountain of money to this nation which Dust of a thousand planets, will remain here seeking investment.

Not only does it seem that the supply of money will create a demand for and fix the price of labor in this country but I am Man, that the shortage of labor in Europe due to the slaughter of men, combined with a shortage of money, will force Europe to draw largely upon American markets in the work of rebuilding both for men and materials.

Those who look for anything more than a temporary lull in prosperity, following the war, due to the necessity of readjustment to meet changed conditions, seem certain to be agreeably disappointed.

Cincinnati Objects

It is not surprising that Mr. Hughes' advocacy of a suffrage amendment meets with emphatic objection in Cincinnati. winds. The Republican press of the city is outspoken in its opposition to the position.

The wet interests of Ohio and throughout the nation have in the granting of the right of suffrage to women the death of the liquor business.

There is, of course, much force in the argument that Mr. Hughes has, in announcing that he favors such an amendment to the federal constitution, placed himself in direct conflict with his party, the latest declaration of which contained in the Chicago platform, declares, negatively at least, against such action and places the right to extend the franchise with the voters of the states.

Mr. Hughes is to be pardoned for undertaking to force the equal suffrage issue to the forefront as it is about the only specific thing he, and his partisans, outside perhaps of Cincannati and Milwaukee, have the courage to espouse in these times of rapid changes.

Cincinnati, strongly republican as it is, may be safely counted upon to fly the track any time party or candidate dares to clash with the "inalienable rights" of the "liberal"

Cincinnati is not particularly out of humor with Mr. Hughes because he has gotten himself at cross purposes with other persons shall stand while plays party. If the republican nominee had declared against the light of the states to extend suffrage to women not a whisper of opposition would have been heard.

Cincinnati is angry because the announcement is a slap at the wet interests.

That's My Business

If All Advertising Stopped

it would mean more than the absence of advertising in the pages of the periodicals and newspapers. It would mean that the grocer would not have his name or business over his door or on his window. The druggist would not display the globes of colored water. The minister would not announce the topic of his next sermon from the pulpit.

There would be no signboards at country crossings or on street corners in the cities. you wanted to go to a store, particularly the best store, no one could direct you, for that is advertising by word of mouth. Frankly, you would find it practically impossible to live without advertising, although you might manage to exist after a fashion.

The great agents of civilization are those which save time and increase the comfort and convenience of the people. These are the things that make the railroads and the many applications for electricity—the telegraph, the telephone, light and power-so enormously valuable. There is no way of estimating the capacity of advertising for saving time and for increasing comfort.

ADVERTISEMENTS POLITICAL

Actual Experience and Proven Efficiency

I would like to meet every voter in the County and greet him personally, for I think of each one as a friend, and I know I have tried to be one to them, and to transact the duties of this office accordingly and with out fear or favor.

Fearing that I will not be able to see all of you on account of the duties at the office. I take this oportunity to state to you my posi-

The office of County Clerk is an important one and should have a man who is qualified and able to do the work correctly and promptly. Knowing that I would be compelled to follow work of this class, I made special preparation for it and have spent the past fifteen years in active clerical work and my earnest effort to learn the duties of this office and the actual experience, will without a doubt, guarantee in another term, a more efficient administration.

The duties of this office are most entirely detail work and require a good many years for one to become proficient.

It will be said, others can learn the work as well as I, this I do not dispute, but I want to add that no one can learn the work in less time than I and without a trained assistant, which I had, cannot learn it as quick. The work of this office if learned so that it can be done thoroughly, can only be learned from one who has had the actual ex

One objection I hear and the only one I have heard so far, is that I am asking for re-election to another term. If I have discharged my duties honestly and with care and accuracy, during my past administration, is there any good reason why I should not be returned for one more term. I do not expect a life time position, or if reelected will I ask for another term and if re-elected I will not be serving more time than most of my predecessors have served. This office has been creditably filled by officials, some who have held for six years and others for nine years and they will tell you that it takes a long while to learn the work and learn it well.

Do successful business men retain their employes only until they have become proficient and then dismiss them for inexperienced persons, just in order to pass the job around; or if in any event they must make a change, will they not invariably look for the man who has had the actual experience and one they know is capable of doing the work they have to do.

I thank you for courtesies extended to me in the past and I trust you will consider my qualifications and my conduct in office and permit me to return for just one more term and I will insure you a better and more able administration. Vote for me August 8.

ART JOHNSON

There is no more popular American driver now before the public than Ar Johnson, who is a member of Billy Chandler's racing combination, driving American-made cars. Johnson has demonstrated the highest class of racing ability and promises to be one of the favorites in the first annual International sweepstakes race at 300 miles to be run at the new Cincinnati Speedway on Labor Day, September 4, for prizes aggregating $30,000.
